

22/Sep/2025

cc: Wei Victor Liu

victor.liu@ualberta.ca

Re: Working Safely

Dear Jinpeng Zhu ,

On behalf of Organizational Development and Health, Safety and Environment, Human Resources, Health, Safety and Environment, congratulations on completing Working Safely. This asynchronous eLearning module is designed to support University of Alberta employees with recognition of their workplace rights and responsibilities.

The Culture of Care, the University of Alberta three-year safety action plan is based on health and safety as a core value within the university community. With this training, you are able to:

1. Recognize the role of the Culture of Care Safety Action Plan and University Safety Commitment in a safe workplace.
2. Identify your rights and responsibilities as a worker.
3. Use the HSEMS to create a safe workplace.

Completion of Working Safely demonstrates your commitment to collaborate in the creation of a safe physical, psychological and culturally safe workplace where everyone owns their safety performance and that of others so we all go home safely each day. Please keep a copy of this letter to share your accomplishments with your current and future supervisors. We encourage you to apply your training in your workplace and to become a champion for workplace health and safety.

Kind Regards,

Zhengwei Xu

Jane Xu, Director
Organizational Development

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "M. Rooker".

Michelle Rooker, Director
Health, Safety and Environment

HUMAN RESOURCES, HEALTH, SAFETY + ENVIRONMENT
UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA
Edmonton, Alberta, Canada T6G 2R3